LEAP

NOV. 10TH
& 11TH ONLINE

Are you a determined arts
student, in theatre,
music or fine arts?

A driven engineering
mind, with an interest
in unconventional
job opportunities?

What about a hard
working problem
solver, who thinks outside of the box?

Live event production is a technical, creative, fast-paced industry, with opportunities for individuals of various education levels. With careers ranging from design to engineering, manufacturing to finance, scenic art to operations, together we build and create live experiences for audiences of all types.

Looking for engaged and reliable college students who would appreciate learning more about opportunities off the beaten path. Join us for an interactive career exploration to learn about the Live Event Industry. Join for part of the conference, or all of it, from anywhere in the world.

This event is designed for college students and free to attend. Interested participants must register by Mon, November 2. Space is limited for some portions of the event, so early registration is suggested. Visit CareerDay.RockLititz.com for more information.
